

Getting a medical second opinion

MediGuide MSO

Your medical second opinion evaluation occurs remotely. This means your evaluation is conducted not just by one specialist but a team of expert multi-disciplinary physicians who practice at world-leading medical centers. These centers are renowned for their medical research advancements, cutting-edge treatments and the overall quality of their clinical outcomes.

A remote medical second opinion also means that if you need specialized care in a different location, you are not limited by distance, your availability to travel, or your capacity to travel if you have mobility issues.

Our approach is simple, quick and efficient and takes up to 10 days for you to receive a full review of your diagnosis and treatment plan based on the latest clinical research without having to leave the comfort of your home. There are no out-of-pocket costs for requesting or receiving a medical second opinion. All it takes is a free phone call to get started.
